The American Society of Testing and Materials, Committee E-35.17 was for many years a consortium of industry and academia experts that promulgated protocols for testing of agents and techniques for the management of vertebrate pests. Their efforts were recognized by the EPA and the approaches were often utilized in the research and registration of new forms of vertebrate control methods and materials. This volume, the fifth in a series, contains papers presented at an ASTM symposium (usually held in conjunction with the Vertebrate Pest Conference (California) or submitted for publication later. The sections include birds, rodents, predators and deer.
